WALDEMAR BONSELS

AMBACH, 22. August 1950.
AM STARNBERGER SEE

Copia

Sir Robert J. McKeever

Port Chester.

Dear Mr. McKeever.

J am writing to you to-day because J am a little upset not to have had a reply from you yet to my letter from Castagnola. J do sincerely hope that the reason for your silence does not lie in your being in ill-health, but would be very glad to hear from you concerning the violins. In my previous letter J asked you which of the two violins you would like to keep and which one would be at my disposal. Unfortunately J now have to consider finding a buyer for both instruments, and J would be most obliged to you if you could tell me your own estimate of the value of the violins, according to your own wide experience in this field. Perhaps one of your letters did not reach me.

In my previous letter J also expressed to you our Thanks and great delight with your Xmas parcel which saused great Joy and surprise in Ambach. J would love to tell you more of all the happenings this last year has had in store for us, but shall obsteain from doing so in the hope that you will make good your promise and set out for another trip to Germany one Day soon. -

In the meantime a New York publisher ("The American Press for Art and Science") has been found for my new book. It is to appear in autumn under the lovely title: "The forgotten Light".

With my very best regards and my assurance that J remember you well and dearly

Yours

Waldemar Bonsels
