Dear Peter Viereck:

A thousand and one thanks for your very beautiful piece and for the dispatch with which you put it down. The contribution is just what I hoped it would be, and it is particularly nice that you thought of including some observations on Klaus, "the soldier". Forgive me for misunderstanding your intentions regarding August von Goethe. But you have no idea what even excellent people and true friends of K. are capable of writing once something has occurred to them which they find somehow attractive.

Of course, you'll get a copy of the book as soon as it is published, and of course I shall also arrange for you to receive a copy of "Der Wendepunkt" which should have been on the market for many months. As I think I mentioned, Landshoff, the publisher, fell ill early in November, and everything at Querido's has been at a complete standstill ever since. Even so, "Der Wendepunkt" should be ready in the none too distant future.

Thanks again. I, too, should be very glad if circumstances would be so good as to arrange for our meeting one of these godforsaken weeks or months to come.

Warm regards to you and Mrs.

Viereck.

Yours as ever cordially
