October 22nd 1964

Dear Bill.

This is just to say that I should be extremely happy if you'd accede to the publisher's request. The "Nymphenburger Verlagshandlung" is seeing to it that Klaus comes gradually into his own, and "Kind dieser Zeit" remains one of the books which will help persuade today's reading public in Germany. Needless to say your contribution - particularly if you'd be sweet enough to adapt it ever so slightly to its present purpose - would do the book a tremendous lot of good.

There is little to nothing that I can do. For the past four years I have been a pretty sick old thing: a tiresome, painful and - for the time being - incurable bone complaint keeps forcing me to lie on my back 24 hours a day. Under which circumstances I am barely managing to edit my father's letters. Are you still reading German as well as you used to? If so, I should gladly send you the two volumes that have so far been published. The second one in particular (1937-47) would almost surely prove to be of some interest to you.

I've been thinking of you in recent weeks and months - owing to the election and feeling that you must be very busy. So, with a hearty "Heil Goldwater!" I am yours as ever cordially,
