Very dear Mr. Jacobs,

The enclosed unpeach reached us some time ago. Since, however, it keeps worrying, nay alarming my poor father, I think it best to forward it to you after all. Most probably you received some similar notice from the gentleman in question. Moreover, I now feel that it might have been slightly eronious on our part to approach anyone at this particular pre-election time. To my childlike mind all we can really do is to wait and see. May the less bad man win. If and when he does something might yet be endavoured. If he doesn't, - well, that will have been bad and we'd better just forget about poor idiotically persecuted Erika and her stricken parents.

Much love to you. I can't say often enough how grateful I am for the warm personal interest you take in this godforsaken matter; had I not always been outstandingly fond of you, I would surely take to being so now.

Encls.

Yours most cordially,

Handwritten notes:
