Dear Florence, -

I should have written a very long time ago to thank you for all those lovely photos. How sweet of you to send them! They are really excellent, the whole lot of them, and I am most grateful to you for the kindness which caused you to let me have them.

Tomorrow is Christmas Eve, and I should like to wish you the very best for the good old year 1960. How may you be and what may you be doing? Probably, it's the same with you as it is with me: always busy, never any spare time, health medium rear but general courage just quite sufficient. But then, you have your lovely children which may make all the differences.

Thanks again.

I am as always

yours affectionately:
