Dear Jack, -

will you please forgive me for this belated reply. But I am ill - have been for years - and last June a major bone operation (the third I have had to undergo) aggravated my condition. I have been lying on my back ever since and am quite unable to cope with more than my most urgent work. As a correspondent I have simply become non-existent.

What you write about your collection and the Colby Librarie Quarterly is most interesting. Unfortunately, however, I cannot accede to your wish. Editing the third volume of T.M.'s Letters is more than I can actually manage. But manage I must. Which means that everything else is out. Regarding my mother, she has never - as a matter of principle - written anything for publication. Nor do I know anyone who could contribute to your project. Wait a moment, though. It just occurs to me that sometime ago Golo delivered a lecture mainly consisting of childhood memories concerning T. M. The thing was very successful. Perhaps you'd care to write to him in order to get the ms. in question. It would, of course, have no direct bearing on your collection or anything related to it.

The Zurich T. M.-Archives should be delighted to receive photocopies of said collection. They would also be glad to reimburse all expenses involved.

Good luck to you, dear Jack,

yours a, ever cordially,
